

Find Job and Career Information

@SIBL (the Science, Industry and Business Library)

If you've been downsized in the current economic downturn, come to SIBL for job leads, online databases and books, web access, hands-on training and after work seminars by industry experts. At SIBL you can:

- Access online databases for career and job listings.
- Download lists of companies & executives customized to your needs- and free from Reference USA and D&B!
- Research companies, industries, trends and markets.
- Access Vault Career Library and Wet Feet's Career Resource Site.
- Access Job Seeker's Resources and tools in Plunkett's Research Online.
- Access Bloomberg online for jobs.
- Find books on writing resumes, cover letters, and more.
- Get information to start a business.
- Take a class or attend a business seminar.

Make SIBL your business headquarters while you're in transition: Access wireless internet and SIBL's premium business databases on your own laptop, and use library computers & download to a USB drive. Or use SIBL's small group meeting rooms for your business consultations or meetings of up to six people, at no charge.

Borrow electronic books free from home, and access newspapers and magazines full-text online, with a NYPL library card. Professional business librarians and business counselors are available to assist and advise you at the business library of New York Public Library--SIBL. In hard times the Library is your best friend.
